TENDERS CALLED FOR CONSTRUCTION MANAGEMENT OF EDEN PORT DEVELOPMENTS

Member for Bega, Andrew Constance has said that a tender for a construction manager for both the Eden breakwater wharf and wave attenuator projects will close on 10 March 2016.

“The construction manager will provide additional support to the NSW Government to supervise construction of these very important projects,” Mr Constance said.

“Having an expert construction manager for both projects will ensure the best outcomes, both economic and value for money.

“During construction of both projects the construction management consultant will be responsible for monitoring the construction activities for health, safety, environment, security and quality compliance.

“These major projects are very exciting not only for the Eden community, but for the regional economy by supporting regional tourism, local businesses and the broader community not only during the construction phase but after as well.”

The independent assurance review requested is also under way and being carried out by Infrastructure NSW.
